

Senior Legal Counsel – Fintech

About Our Client

Our client is a disrupter in the technology space focusing on insurance services. They work with MNO's and underwriters to support a client base of 26 million across 15 countries. They are winning awards globally and are looking to grow their team and hire a Senior Legal Counsel for the Asian region based in Singapore.

Job Description

Reporting directly to the General Counsel, this role will be critical in delivering on our hugely ambitious plans over the next few years. It is a great opportunity to take on operational and commercial responsibilities in a fast-growing entrepreneurial environment.

You are a committed in house lawyer with 6-7 years of experience, preferably in regional roles in the fintech space, ready to apply your skills and experience.

The Successful Applicant

The successful candidate must have sufficient experience to be largely autonomous and will work directly with management in Singapore and other Asian countries. Some experience in the technology space would be an advantage. Experience ideally in a startup or dynamic operational environment where you were happy to problem solve and devise solutions on the go.

What's on Offer

Join a team who shares a passion for adventure. They look for bold people who love to travel, experience different cultures and try new things.
